MOTHER KILLS SELF AND FOUR CHILDREN

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The scorching of a gown—the pitiful climax to her life of petty tragedies and worries—led a mother to gather her four children about her and seek relief in death. This was the conclusion of investigators today after Mrs. Hildegar Wywias, 45, had ended her own life and the lives of her four small children with gas.

For five years Mrs. Wywias had struggled to support her constantly needy family. Yesterday there were gas bills to be paid, a light bill, groceries needed, winter was near and her children had only flimsy—and shabby—summer apparel. And then she scorched the gown which she was pressing. The gown was not hers and she was confronted with the possibility of having to pay for it—a $25 garment—and to her $25 was the wild kind of an impossible fortune.

So the worry-ridden mother placed her three youngest children on the bed, took her oldest son, Carl, in her arms and turned on the gas.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Flood areas of Vermont and Massachusetts had a new problem today as shifting sand and gravel undermined streets and homes.

A score of houses were rendered unsafe for occupancy in North Walpole, N. H. and several street cave-ins were reported from West Springfield, Mass. Foundations of many homes in both communities were disturbed. In Massachusetts, Hampden Memorial bridge was closed today to heavy traffic and trucks were barred from the streets until a complete survey was made.

Fresh water has been piped to isolated Waterbury, Vt., and an epidemic averted.

Slowly but surely everywhere in the flood regions of the six states order is coming out of chaos.

The flood stimulated the Red Cross membership drive in Boston. $13,409 being taken in gifts and memberships on the first day.

The Red Cross headquarters announced that the relief work for the 10,000 made homeless in New England was at an end and that attention was being given to rehabilitation.

The New Castle-Erie East high grid game today will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Climax of the New Castle High football season is reached today. There will be two features at Ben Franklin High field this afternoon. First the grid battle that sends New Castle High eleven against the strong Erie East team, and the "New Castle Day," booster ceremonies.

COLD WAVE HOLDS CHICAGO IN GRIP

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Winter weather that rode in on the heels of a destructive gale and rain storm held Chicago in its grip today. For the second time this season, freezing temperature prevailed.

The mercury began tumbling last night after a fresh windstorm, which cut a swath of destruction on the northwest fringe of the city, had blown itself out in Lake Michigan.

Several persons were injured in Niles and Niles Center, northwestern suburbs, when their homes were wrecked by the gale. Six houses were shoved from their foundations, trees were uprooted and traffic halted in many streets.

The storm broke when a warm south wind was overridden by cold blasts that moved in from the northwest. The mercury, which stood at 71 when the storm began, dropped 23 degrees in less than three hours. It continued to fall throughout the night.

The cold wave is moving eastward, according to the local weather bureau, and should reach Atlantic coast states tonight or in the morning.

Beauty Pageant Changes Planned

Plan To Open Annual Atlantic City Contest For "Miss America" To All

DIRECTOR DEFENDS PRESENT SYSTEM

(International News Service)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 12.—The national beauty pageant here next year may be open to all, and not confined to girls classed as "amateur beauties" as in previous years, or may collapse entirely, it was said here today by those prominently associated with the pageant.

The announcement followed a closed meeting attended by representatives of the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce and of the Atlantic City Hotel Men's Association. Julian A. Hillman, president of the latter organization, stated that the association believed that the pageant had lost its advertising value and outlived its usefulness in its present form and advised that it be either discontinued or changed radically.

Former Mayor Harry Bacharach, a director of the Chamber of Commerce said that the city this year appropriated $50,000 for the pageant but that the net return was but $7,000 and that a loss of $43,000 was entailed. It was suggested that future pageants be open to all and that $10,000 in prize money be offered contestants.

Armand T. Nichols, director of the pageant for four years, today defended the present plan for the pageant. He said in his opinion this year's pageant had been a success, both from an artistic and business point of view.

Collision Occurs On Ray Street

One Of Drivers Is Held Pending Investigation By Police

Considerable damage to the automobiles involved was caused last night about 8 o'clock when the car of Frank J. Nicholson, 823 East Washington street, which was being driven along Ray street, ran into the machine of F. H. Ashton, 106 South Ray street, which was parked in front of the latter's home with the tail light burning. Many Contracts Are Offered To Queen Of Air

Ruth Elder May Reap Great Financial Reward From Hop Over Ocean

By MARGERY REX
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Contracts which already total a quarter million pursued America's reigning queen of the air today, giving the first promise of the financial reward Ruth Elder will reap from her trans-Atlantic joust with fate.

She talked first with Florenz Ziegfeld, who is reported to have offered her a place in the Follies at a salary which seems altitudinous, even to a queen of the upper air lanes. The famous producer was host to Miss Elder and Captain George Haldeman after the theater last night, where Ruth "stopped the show" when introduced by Eddie Cantor.

Today will be full of business, tomorrow of rest and Monday will be filled with further honor, when President Coolidge will be host to Miss Elder and the pick of America's aviators at luncheon at the White House in Washington.

Lyle Womack, the husband of this radiant beauty who for the moment is the most famous woman in the land, today accepted without question a place in the background. The problems of this shy young man and the heroine of the hour who is his wife may be problems for the world, but not to Womack.

Hunt Buried Gold Under Old House In French Capital

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The proprietor of a picturesque old restaurant "La Petite Chaise," is looking for buried treasure and digging frantically in his cellar for a pile of gold that was once the fortune of the wealthy Ducs de Luynes.

Ever since the middle of the 17th century it has been whispered about that there was money beneath the very spot where many a Frenchman, as well as American has satisfied his hunger. A score of proprietors have begun to dig up the foundations, only to abandon the task in despair and repeat the story to his successor.

Not long ago a resident became interested in "The Little Chair" and started negotiations to buy it. The owner, however, was still under the spell of the legend and reserved the rights to dig up the cellar. He had the floor sounded by sensitive electric detectors and was assured of the presence of metal below the surface. It has not all been clear digging. At one time the water welled up in the hole and he was obliged to install a pump.

British Preacher Says U. S. Paradise For Willing Workers

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 12.—"The United States is a paradise for all who are willing to work" says Dr. F. B. Meyer, octogenarian preacher just returned from his 14th tour of America and Canada.

"But although the prosperity of America is amazing" added the doctor, "I am convinced that this affluence has had no detrimental effect on the depth and sincerity of religious feeling."

There is much sincere worship. Of course the conflict between Modernism and Fundamentalism has led to a cleavage of the Christian forces which is most regrettable but at the same time the evangelical section is very active."

Dr. Meyer thinks that there is no prospect of the Prohibition law being repealed. "Prohibition is justifying itself throughout the United States and employers of labor and housewives especially commend it because the temptation to break away from work is reduced to a minimum."

Our stationer informs us that the one-cent Christmas greeting cards will cost 35 cents this year as usual.

May Fix Flat Rate Of Pay If Aldermen Hold City Court Under New Chief Executive

Aldermen who may be called upon to preside as city police magistrate will be paid a flat rate and not allowed to collect costs, should W. H. Gillespie adopt such a plan for police court after he becomes mayor.

There is no legislation on city hall books at the present time establishing a rate for aldermen who serve as magistrate but it is rumored such legislation will be introduced and adopted.

According to some city hall attaches, the plan would work out in different ways, for instance: The present mayor, at $2,500, a year has been holding police court, as have other mayors.

The mayor-elect, when he assumes office will receive $3,600, a year, an increase of $1,100, annually.

Should aldermen be called in, and providing no legislation is enacted establishing a rate of pay, they would be allowed to collect costs for their work.

This would either be paid by the defendant or the fine would be cut down in order that the alderman could get his costs—and if the latter plan was adopted, it would affect the city.

There are from five to ten cases before the municipal court each day. An alderman could fine them any amount and annex the costs which would be several dollars—which added together would make the job a lucrative position.

It is believed that in order that the prisoner who goes before city clerk will not be taxed with costs, an ordinance will be introduced setting a rate of pay, say, $2.00 a day for aldermen appointed to preside, if the mayor does not.

CHOIR ENTERTAINED

Several of the ladies of Trinity church who are interested in the music gave a delicious, home-cooked dinner to the choir last night in the guild room, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. A fine spirit of comradeship and good feeling prevailed, all had a good time and at 8 o'clock undertook the regular rehearsal with a will. Friends of the choir were invited guests and were high in their praise of the dinner and the splendid spirit of sociability.

Why Offutt-Laid Floors of Linoleum Last Longer

There's a world of difference in the way linoleum floors are laid nowadays. If you've ever watched an Offutt expert installing a built-in floor of Armstrong's Linoleum you can readily understand why Offutt floors really do last longer.

Each Armstrong Floor you purchase from us is carefully laid under the supervision of a factory trained expert. Each floor is cemented firmly in place over a layer of heavy builders' deadening felt. Seams and edges are sealed with waterproof cement.

Result — a smooth, practically one-piece floor that's custom-built.

WHAT IS THE SOLUTION?

THERE is rarely a public meeting having even the most remote relation to the operations of courts where denunciations of the law's delays and criticisms of court procedure are not heard. Comparisons between the national efficiency in commercial fields and the judicial inefficiency are rather far-fetched, but it is true court procedure leaves a great deal to be desired. It is the general opinion that the courts themselves and the legal profession are responsible for conditions which have been described as "a national disgrace." If judges and lawyers were not bound by so many rules of procedure and if the laws did not invade the judicial prerogative with all sorts of limiting rules and directions, it would be easier to apply the needed reforms. The system of criminal procedure which sometimes permits years to elapse between the trial of a defendant and the final execution of the sentence is not only a national disgrace but a national menace. It destroys confidence and security at home and excites criticism and protest abroad. When many years elapse between indictment and sentence and execution of sentence the law itself is the thing really tried and condemned. Thereby a grave injustice is done to the defendants, whether guilty or innocent, and to all society.

Yet no one has come forth with a solution. Legal processes and machinery are in constant flux. In their perpetual state of evolution, each tiny change is based upon the past, each new idea becomes a precedent. Tradition is nowhere more firmly fixed than in judicial procedure. Only the extremely pessimistic, however, believe that the American system of criminal procedure is hopelessly involved in its own coils. Able minds and large institutions have set about to study the situation and it is not unreasonable to assume that somewhere, somehow, relief will be had.

A "STICKER" CAMPAIGN

ORGANIZED appeal is indispensable to the success of welfare drives, war loan drives, hospital fund campaigns and of drives to obtain money for the most worthy and urgent of charity work, but the only appeal necessary to sell the quota of Christmas seals is embodied in the seals themselves.

This month finds the seals again on sale. Between now and Christmas millions of them will be sold and a large part of them will carry their message back and forth across the country on letters and packages.

It is safe to say the distribution of these health-giving little stamps is nearer 100 per cent than the distributions to any other welfare or charity fund. This is not so by accident. It is because the public is eager to aid in the great humanitarian work these seals make possible.

Anybody can buy and everybody does buy the seals that are carrying on successfully the nation-wide crusade for extermination of the white man's plague. Financially and geographically they are within the reach of all.

From the sale of Christmas seals each year enough money has been obtained to not only place the dread disease of tuberculosis under control but to reduce the death rate from it annually. This money saves thousands of lives, restores thousands to self-support and productivity and is gradually destroying the worst enemy of the white race.

Christmas seals have other uses besides aiding unfortunates. They beautify gift packages, add a touch of color to letters and other mail, are useful in sealing packages and envelopes and offer a convenient way to dispose of accumulated small change.

"FLAPPER VOTES" IN ENGLAND

THE question of the "flapper vote" in England will not be opened by parliament until after Christmas.

The Conservative government, with rather good reason, approaches the subject with a good deal of hesitancy.

It has, of course, been obvious from the beginning that the voting age for women could not be maintained at thirty years, while the men enjoyed the privilege at twenty-one. But "reasons of state" were behind this curious embargo.

There are actually more women in England than men. In all save a handful of constituencies, women of twenty-one and over constitute an absolute majority. Giving them the vote seemed like turning over the country to them—and the traditional Englishman still hugs to his heart the fear that England might not be "a man's country."

The Conservatives have special cause to fear this feminine majority. They have stood the "flappers" off for so long that they are likely to pay for their procrastination at the general election next year. They are sure it would be just like the flappers to bite the hand that gives them the ballot.

DOLLARS FOR DEAD ONES

THE $5000 reward offered by the Texas Bankers Association for each dead bank robber sets a new record. It is five times the reward which Illinois bankers have found so effectual in reducing bank robberies; but half a dozen banks in Texas were held up last week, and the cost of suppressing this kind of crime is not a serious consideration.

In Missouri, Kansas and Iowa organizations of citizens have been notably successful in curbing the activities of bank robbers. Village vigilantes, armed and ready to respond to an alarm, provide protection for the small banks that formerly were the prey of Jesse James' successors.

Monetary rewards add to the interest of bandit-hunting and are legitimate offsets to the desperate enterprise of these enemies of society, all of them potential murderers, who are armed and ready to kill.

Most people like a man who comes right out and says what he thinks—provided, of course, he agrees with us.

We noticed an item where some flyers on a long trip were detained because they caught the flu. In the long run it may be lucky they were stopped by something other than the cold hard ocean.

The past year swimming season has convinced us that the family skeletons look better in the closet than in a bathing suit.

In some parts of the country the humble potato is getting to be a real aristocrat. They are now being wrapped in tin foil and tenderly packed before shipped and also tenderly packed after the consumer pays the price for them.

A man called for jury duty in Pittsburgh declared that he could not give a colored man charged with murder as fair a trial as he could a white man. I t seems to us that any white man who cannot give any human, no matter of what color, race or creed a square deal especially where a life is depending on such a thing, isn't much of a man or American. God never intended that one human should be better than another.

It seems to us that if the government wants to put a real tax on a thing that deserves it so thoroughly it is on the tickets to the international prize fights pulled off in this country. Those who buy the tickets never mind the price even if the price is scandalous and the seat not within hearing or seeing of the fighters. Put on a tax of about 75 per cent.

When we hear of some alleged patriots who try to save our country we feel like reaching for some blunt instrument and letting it fall of its own weight on them. Their interest only goes as far as conversation as a rule.

"Don't you feel lonesome now that you are divorced," we asked a local man the other day. "No," he answered, "I feel broke. You see when you get divorced from your wife these days you also get divorced from most of your cash."

J. A. Gleghorn, who lives two miles south of Mt. Jackson on the Mt. Jackson and Mt. Air road is some potato raiser. He brought to the Hints and Dints man eight potatoes that weigh 15 pounds. They can be seen in this office. He sold some of these potatoes and 37 potatoes made a bushel in some cases. They are flat and wonderful looking potatoes and show what can be done when things are gone at in the right way.

The recent election in New York state was an indication to the leading Republican politicians in America that Al Smith, now governor of that state and a Democrat, will carry New York state as their candidate for the presidency has ever carried it on any ticket. Had a Republican received as thorough an endorsement the politicians would have all the reason in the world to believe the Republicans would carry that state just as enthusiastically and thoroughly. Those who are really concerned for the welfare of this country, and of course including our own beloved city of New Castle, can do some thinking along that line if they want something to think about.

The new Ford car has received millions of dollars worth of free advertising. Any flivver, no matter how cheaply constructed, could be sold by the millions before they are seen with such boosting. Thousands of Ford cars are already ordered and no one really knows what they are going to be like. Advertising is the thing that moves the world.

We saw a man the other day who had received an anonymous letter from some low down dirty coward and he would have killed the writer of it. We are sure if he could have been found. The writers of that kind of letters know that their existence would cease the minute they were known to those they write letters to, and that is the reason they write that kind of stuff. In about nine times out of ten those writers are either known or become known later. Try as they will they will leave some tell tale thing that will be their undoing later. In many cases the men who are written to never see the letters because those who open their mail see to that.

"Why yes," said the grouchy to his wife, "Your dress is becoming as far as it goes, but I would like it better if it hid your bow legs, then a flap to conceal your face would help a lot." But she took it all in good part because for the first time in years he had been joking with her all evening.

That Justice of the Peace bill which was defeated in Ohio and hailed as such a victory of the wets is hardly that. The bill as drawn gives the justices almost unlimited power in trying cases, all kinds as well as purely liquor cases and would be a great injustice to the people to be in the power of these officers. Thinking people everywhere are not anxious to turn their cities and affairs over to justices so the bill went down as it should.

The voters in New York state voted against a four year term for the governor and will continue to hold their elections every two years as for many years. Two years is too long for some governors and four years too short for some. Just depends upon the kind of a man you get. Watching Governor Smith.
So Wall Street Shivered.
For Childless Women.
The World Will Survive.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.)

Governor Smith's victory in the New York elections Tuesday makes Republicans thoughtful. With President Coolidge, whose election was ninety-nine and nine-tenths certain, removing himself from the field, Republicans will need a candidate constructive and convincing.

Wall Street shivered on Wednesday, hearing that George F. Baker was ill, and stock prices dropped. That was typical of Wall street nervousness.

Mr. Baker, one of the world's four richest men, was only slightly ill. In any case, like John D. Rockefeller, Mr. Baker is fortunate in having an able son ready to carry on his affairs, and carrying a big part of the load now.

There would be no throwing overboard of stocks or any dangerous happening on the death of any of the big financial four—Rockefeller, Mellon, Baker, Ford.

Which is the richest, nobody knows; not one of the big four knows. Perhaps it is Rockefeller, who has so much underground.

This news, if confirmed, will lighten the hearts of many women. Dr. Magian, of Manchester, a scientist of standing, says that by an operation in gland transplanting it has been made possible for hitherto childless women to bear children. Only those who know the intense sorrow of a woman, married and childless, can realize what this means.

Professor Gulick of Columbia is afraid that our ways of crime, reaching from government officials to bootleggers, will "engulf public life." But it WON'T.

Unsuccessful criminals go to prisons, some to the electric chair. Criminals that become rich also become diseased or drunken or both and die out.

Even political crime, selling government oil lands, bribing cabinet officers, etc., will disappear. The world as a whole is honest. LIKES honesty, and is steadily getting better. A little set back, just now, from bootleggers, but that will pass.

Socialists in the Reading, Pa., election made a clean sweep, electing the mayor and controlling the city council for the next four years, biggest Socialist victory since Socialists captured Milwaukee some years ago.

Socialists in Reading will be fortunate if they go as well as Milwaukee did under the Socialists, directed by Victor L. Berger, whose theory includes "absolute obedience to law." Berger, well educated and intelligent, knows that where the majority can rule having the vote there is no excuse for any action except at the polls.

The world accepts changes as they come. Not long ago crusaders in New York tried to prevent bicycle riding by women, called unmodest, luring ladies too far from the house. Now they go 1,000 miles in motors, or try to fly over the ocean.

Next, alderman decided that women must be forbidden to smoke in public restaurants. Now the big Pennsylvania railroad puts ladies' smoking cars on its first-class trains from New York to Washington.

Nevertheless, women should not smoke until they are through with child bearing. Each child should have half a chance, and gets it, no matter what his father may do, when his mother doesn't smoke or drink strong liquor before he is born.

The French senate formally approved demands moving pictures in all the schools of France, from kindergarten to higher institutes of research.

French schools, far ahead of our backward public school system, already have 4,000 projecting machines and several million feet of educational film. Edward Herriot, French minister of public instruction, says moving pictures must be used to the limit to educate children in schools and also in "world-wide propaganda." One good picture would teach children in fifteen minutes more about Lincoln or Washington than books could teach in fifteen weeks. Mr. Eastman, in Rochester, and William Fox, in New York, are making educational pictures. The cities and the nation should finance them.

Prohibition agents in Detroit reveal a brewery underground, occupying a whole block: 300,000 gallons were seized. The bootleggers made tunnels under other men's property and were doing business without paying rent. Armor plates protected this large "blind pig."

Hijackers, gentlemen whose profession is holding up bootleggers and stealing their poison, shot at and stopped a truck driver yesterday. This truck was loaded with newspaper ink; they let him go. While ink is not a desirable beverage, a glass of it would do less harm than some whisky that "intelligent" Americans drink in these days.

Bible Thought For Today

OUR TRUST IN GOD:—It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in many. It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in princes. Psalm 118: 8, 9.

PRAYER: Lord, we would trust in Thee and not lean on our own understanding.

WHAT OF IT?

There has recently been a meeting of the International Congress for Psychic in Paris. There were the most astounding declarations. A Mr. Bird of New York and a Dr. Reitz of Leningrad produced a lot of evidence to rehabilitate the mediums. Dr. Reitz stated that they all operated in good faith and the audience applauded the sentiments. He said that in some performances the mediums had found articles that had been introduced into safes doubly locked and sealed and other tied knots in a card attached to a seat.

There were other mediums that wrote upon the typewriter and many were able to move all sorts of objects without help of any material agency. Mr. Price, of America, told how mediums produced changes of temperature in a room, and Professor Cazamall, of Milan, claimed that the human brain emits radio waves that had begun to be photographed. He said, also, that the brain put forth sounds which were audible by radio.

Rappings of ghosts were possible, it was claimed, and messages from another world could be received.

Charles Richet of France, the president of the Congress, declared that metaphysics is on the verge of becoming an authoritative science, and that there is a sixth sense or psychic power.

Another power produced what he called thumb-prints of the person during his life time.

To all of which the public makes the query, "What of it?" If a dead person has nothing better to do than go around rapping typewriters, moving tables and making thumb-prints, he is not very busy.

All of this material seems merely to be in the interest of astounding people. It adds nothing to the sum of human learning and is simply a continuation of the oldest craft in the world, which is witchcraft.

Not a Bad Lot

Will Durant makes a profound and optimistic observation upon the human race in the course of his mental autobiography "Transition," recently published. He is discussing how his parents sacrificed much in order that he might have a good education. He observes that his father was a wholly illiterate man, yet with such an appreciation of the value of learning that he was willing to do without ordinary comforts of life so as to furnish his children with a better start in life than he had had.

"I have often reflected," says Durant, "on this impulse, which seems to be so deeply rooted in every parent's heart, to give the children a finer rearing than their own. We are not such a bad lot, after all. . . . we utter a regrettable amount of non-sense on our parables through the world, but we can love with a magnificent devotion."

One would have said that Durant was a confirmed pessimist if one had read his philosophical and economic writings only. A man can be a pessimist philosophically and economically. But when this cynical philosopher writes about his own family and his own experiences with men and women, he is forced to become an optimist. The world may be gray with the smoke of wars, and the sun may be hidden by sinister clouds of doom, but beneath the clouds and

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

YOUTH IN OLD AGE

How many turpins and breeders of horseflesh today remember the immortal Lexington, the greatest American thoroughbred sire, some of whose blood flows in the veins of practically every good American thoroughbred of the turf today? The turpins and the breeders no doubt remember Lexington, but how many of them ever saw Lexington? There is an artist living now, however, who painted a picture of Lexington, having Lexington's flesh and blood before him. His name is Louis Maurer. He is 95 years of age, and is still active and alert. He attended a club breakfast not long ago in New York. He came in dressed in knickerbockers, with canvas puttees, and a hat reminiscent of an army campaign hat. His eyes which more than three quarters of a century ago looked upon the great son of Boston and Alice Carneal were clear and kindly. His hand which in 1854 sketched in the white blaze and four white stockings of that famous chestnut stallion which in a stall of Ten Broeck's racing stable in New York, was strong and firm while he shook the hands of those who had preceded him.

At that breakfast he told how he had also painted the first Futurity race on September 5, 1888, when Proctor Knott was winner, with Salvador second, at Sheepshead Bay, and then how he had himself ridden in the first National Horseshow more than forty years ago. That was the secret of his youth in old age.

Louis Maurer is a sportsman too, a lover of horses, and that is one reason why he painted them. Perhaps there are some who remember that he was also a great cartoonist, and drew cartoons published in the Weeklies of the Presidential campaign of 1896, and in the Lincoln campaign of 1899. Louis Maurer loved the outdoors. He not only loved horses, and rode them, but he was a great rifle shot, and has been in his lifetime president of two National Rifle Clubs. Two years ago, just to show the young men what he could do, he picked up a revolver, and in the Manhattan Rifle and Revolver Club competition and punched a clean bull's eye in the army target. This is the secret of many ripe old ages. As long as a man lives part of his life outdoors, and retains a keen interest in outdoor sports, so much surer is he of a long life, and a happy one.

Just Folks

THE QUESTION

How long will it take us this lesson to learn.

Oh, God, from the hand of death. That the things we struggle so hard to earn.

Are as fragile as breath? Two of us died with the passing night. One famous and rich and proud: The other merely a man Thou might Have sold to be one of the crowd.

Now cold and still on their biers they lie.

And calm is each troubled brow. And both of them knew that they both must die.

But which is the richer now? And both knew laughter, and both felt pain.

And both were loved on earth. But now You have taken them home again.

And what was the fortune worth? Are we bound for our uttermost goals to try.

Till the last dark shadows fall? And whether as rich or poor we die Does it matter after all?

(Copyright, 1927, Edgar A. Guest)

One Year Ago

Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, died at his home in Danville, Ill.

Some of the people in Africa are backward. They are beginning to wear clothes just when the civilized people are discarding them.

within the mist there still abides the flame of love, which warms the heart of humanity.

Will Durant is a parent now himself. It's quite an educational experience, being a parent. I believe that this philosopher has found the sillogisms of the ancients somewhat less infallible since he has listened to the laughter of a "small daughter." In reading this autobiography of his, I get the impression that he once knew everything and defied the lightning of all the universes in proper heroic fashion.

And then came love, and the philosopher became a very human man. He speaks as sentimentally of his love and his wife and his daughter as any plowman or common citizen might speak. For love is the force that puts philosophers to flight and gets logic at naught.

I am inclined to agree with Dr. Durant that we are not such a bad lot, after all. I am even anxious to include philosophers in that "we."

When people get to theorizing about the futurity of life and the mistakes of an all-wise Providence, they can work up a pretty good case against God and man. They can even convince themselves that the creation is a sorry mess, and that man is an ignoble brute.

And then comes love, and sets the clouds a-flying. Love of woman, love of men, love of family, child and race. The philosopher becomes human.

Report Attack Made On Woman

Young Man Strikes Woman
As She Was Walking
Across E. S. Street

WOMAN TELLS POLICE SHE WAS FOLLOWED

While enroute to her home last night about 11:15 o'clock on Arlington avenue, near the Free Methodist church, Mrs. William W. Reynolds, 1028 Adams street, was followed by an unknown man and when she attempted to cross the street, the man struck her in the face, knocking her down, then ran away.

Detective Horner and Officer Samuels answered the call and found that Mrs. Reynolds had walked down Arlington avenue with a girl friend. She was returning home on Arlington avenue when she noticed the man following her.

She walked faster and as she did so noticed that he also quickened his steps. As she was in the vicinity of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church, she noticed a young man on the opposite side of the street and decided to cross over for protection.

As she made the move to cross the street, the man who had been following her rushed up to her, striking her quite a hard blow in the face. The force of the blow knocked her down. The man then fled up the alley along side the church and disappeared.

The young man across the street, Charles Fleming, a son of the county detective, and others rushed to her assistance and the police were called.

The man attacking Mrs. Reynolds was described as being between 30 and 35 years of age, five feet eight or nine inches in height and wearing a dark suit and soft hat.

Community Night Is Very Successful At Mt. Jackson

The auditorium of the Mt. Jackson high school was filled to capacity Friday evening for the first Community Night of the winter season of the North Beaver township public schools.

William McCullough, director of music of the township schools was in charge of the pep singing and supervised the high school orchestra whose spirited selections added much to the inspiration of the evening.

A special feature of entertainment was five reels of pictures all of which were very instructive and entertaining. The first one shown was entitled "Native State" in which Benjamin Chapin impersonated Abraham Lincoln. "American Heritage" a picture of Boy Scouts showing them in camp and their daily work. "In Flanders Field" was shown. The poem from which the story was taken was recited by Miss Ruth McClelland.

The picture also showed the setting which inspired the author, John McCrae, to write the poem at the outbreak of the war.

A splendid display of the students work was on exhibition in the various rooms.

Senior High School Observes Armistice

Epworth M. E. Pastor Makes Address On "Service"

The Senior High School paid fitting tribute to the World War dead at the annual Armistice Day assembly in the school auditorium Friday. Norman Nelson, a science department instructor, was in charge of the program.

The chapel opened with the students singing "America." Recitations were then given by Gertrude Potter, Harriet Truby, Virginia Reesher and Dorothy Jean Wallace. These girls were dressed up as Red Cross nurses. At the conclusion of the recitations the school pledged allegiance to the American flag.

Rev. Samuel Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, made the main address of the assemblage. He spoke on "Service."

After Rev. Maxwell had finished his speech the students rose and faced the west for two minutes, paying respects to the unknown soldier of America.

The gathering was closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

America To Stay Dry Says British Observer

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 12.—"America will remain 'dry.' It is impossible for her to go back and difficult or not she will go forward." So declares Prof. Gilbert Murray of Oxford University.

During his recent visit to America he stated that he stayed at places in America where prohibition was accepted as a matter of course and where no one thought of offering him a glass of whiskey. He had stayed at other places where the "bootlegger" called regularly for orders almost like a milkman. But, he could not find anyone to deny that the "dry" areas were cleaner, sweeter, more decent and more prosperous.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT
Black bean soup sounds like the steppes of Russia. Does the Black Forest of Germany, does it not? Suppose we have it for luncheon or supper and see if it will conjure up a Volga boatman—Hansel and Gretel feeling for us.

Black Bean Soup
Crackers or Toast Strips
Salmon Salad
Gelatin
Tea
Mashed Potatoes
Pickles
Brown and White Bread
Butter
Apple Butter
Hot Apple and Pumpkin Pie
Coffee

TODAY'S RECIPES
Black Bean Soup—One pint beans, one small onion, one celery root, one tablespoon flour, two tablespoons butter, two hard-boiled eggs, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon pepper, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one lemon. Soak beans overnight, boil them with two quarts of water, slice onion and fry it in the butter with the celery root. When beans are soft rub through a strainer, add seasonings, flour and one tablespoon butter cooked together. If too thick, add more water. Serve with a slice of lemon and hard-boiled egg in each plate.

Salmon Salad—One can salmon, one bunch celery, six cold boiled potatoes, juice of one lemon, ten chopped English walnuts, salad dressing. Fry the salmon of skin and bones, flake lightly. Chop the boiled potatoes, also celery. Mix all and add lemon juice. Mix with salad dressing, garnish top with chopped nuts and serve on lettuce.

SUGGESTIONS
Creaming Butter and Sugar
In cold weather it is often difficult to cream the butter and sugar for cake. Add one or two tablespoons of boiling water to the butter to soften it. If the butter remains separated from the water pour it off, or it will have to be deducted from the liquid allowance as given in the recipe.

Little Items of Importance
Clean clouded plate glass with alcohol.
Dampened ashes will clean steel knives.
Salt and vinegar will remove stains from tea cups.
Wax paper wrappings are nice for the hot iron instead of beeswax. Save them.

MENU HINT
Is your church society giving a supper this month? What shall you serve? Things that are not too hard to cook and which do not take too much service. Below are two suggested menus, both of which fulfill the requirements mentioned:

Menu No. 1
Baked Ham
Creamed Lima Beans
Brown and White Bread
Butter
Apple Butter
Hot Apple and Pumpkin Pie
Coffee
Menu No. 2
Beef Loaf with Tomato Sauce
Escalloped Potatoes
Mixed Pickles
Baked Apples
Gingerbread
Coffee

Creole—Means with tomatoes.

SUGGESTIONS
Fortune Telling
Write the names of the professions or occupations such as doctor, lawyer, manufacturer, farmer, etc., on plain white paper with baking soda mixed with water. Have all the guests seated on the floor and turn the lights very low. Go from guest to guest with a lighted candle. The occupation of the future husband or wife may be revealed by holding the paper above the candle, the heat from the flame turning the written word brown.

New Castle Men Hurt In Accident

David A. Moore of East Lincoln avenue this city and J. M. Pattison of R. D. 2, New Castle were in a slight automobile accident near Reno Pa., a short distance from Franklin on Thursday evening, according to information reaching here.

The machine in which the men were riding caught in one of the rails of the double track crossing near Reno and proceeded to ride the rails until it was wrecked. Mr. Moore was rushed to the Oil City hospital where it was found that he was suffering from shock and bruises. An X-ray picture was to be taken to determine whether or not there were any fractures.

The two men were enroute to Forest county to hunt.

Need Special Act Of U. S. Congress To Dry Up Philippines

(International News Service)

MANILA, Nov. 12.—Philippine municipalities can restrict the sale of liquor or forbid it altogether, rules the supreme court of the Philippine islands in turning down the petition of a Zamboanga liquor dealer for refund of taxes amounting to $1,000, which he claimed were so high as to ruin his business.

The Philippines are the only place under the American flag where inhabitants are free to drink or not, as they choose. The constitution does not apply to the islands, in accordance with the Jones Act. The American secretary of state some years ago made an attempt to prohibit the importation of liquor into the Philippines by forbidding American consuls abroad to issue bills of health to ships carrying consignments of liquor for the Philippines. The insular government evaded this order easily, by the simple process of fining such ships only $10 each, instead of the usual fine of $2,000 or more for vessels entering the Philippines without clean bills of health.

The only way to make the Philippines dry is by a special act of the American congress. People here do not seem to be worrying much about that.

George Swan, 27, Camden, was the only one arrested. He will get a hearing today.

The Camden youths massed to revenge themselves on Collingswood, the latter group having ripped the football goal posts from Camden's field on Saturday in celebration of victory.

Hosea---The Broken-Hearted Prophet Brass Tacks On The Sunday School Lesson

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Hosea, whose prophesy is the first and longest of the group we call "Minor Prophets," was a contemporary of Amos in Israel and of Isaiah and Micah in Judah. The period of his prophesy, 785 to 726 B. C., was one of great prosperity under King Jeroboam II, but one of great corruption of morals and of shameful political conditions, four of the seven kings of his time having been murdered by those who succeeded them.

No prophet was ever more a part of his message than was Hosea. His unhappy domestic life with his unfaithful wife, Gomer, was not only a preparation for his ministry, but a parable to the nation of its spiritual adultery in forsaking Jehovah and resorting to the worship of false gods. The broken-hearted prophet loved Gomer in spite of her persistent sin and life of shame, and even after her lovers abandoned her to be sold. Hosea found her in the slave market and purchased her and forgave her all and took her again as the wife of his love.

Thus through his own grief God's messenger was prepared to understand the grief of Jehovah over the spiritual adultery of his people, and to know the infinite love that made God willing to follow after Israel in his hope of winning them back to love and faithfulness.

Like People, Like Priest
The keynote of the message is struck in 4:1: "Jehovah hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land."

land. For this condition Hosea is unsparing in his denunciation of kings, priests and people. Then, as now, it was a case of "like people, like priest." The priests even encouraged sin that they might profit more from the offerings of the people.

Such mockery was an abomination to God, for He desired goodness, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Israel's Captivity Foretold

Hosea, by his clear prophesy of the Assyrian captivity as God's punishment for the nation's idolatry, attempted to do for Israel what Jeremiah later attempted to do for the southern kingdom of Judah. But his warnings fell upon deaf ears, and the nation rushed on to its destruction within five years from the time Hosea's voice was still.

Truly, "Ephraim was joined to his idols"; he was "a cake not turned," and yet God loved these people as passionately as Hosea loved the unworthy and unfaithful Gomer, and when its destruction seemed inevitable, the heart of God sobbed. "How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? How shall I cast thee off, Israel? My heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled within me." "Oh, Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself, but in me is thine help."

The book closes with a final appeal to the prodigal nation, and a promise of mercy: "Oh, Israel, return unto the Lord thy God, and I will heal their backsliding. I will love them freely."

This same thing God will do for every sinner who repents and returns in faith to his Son Jesus Christ, whose childhood exile in Egypt is prophesied by Hosea.

(Quoted from "The Gist of the Bible, Book by Book," by Dr. Alvin E. Bell, Toledo, O.)

The international uniform Sunday school lesson for November 13 is: Hosea, chapters 6, 11 and 14, the subject being: "Hosea Preaches God's Love," and the golden text, Hosea 6:6: "I desire goodness, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings."

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND
AN IMPOLITE SISTER
Good evening, Sister Flittermouse," squeaked a shrill voice, and a shadowy form alighted in front of the boy. And so alike were the two shapes which now stood side by side upon the flat stone that Peter knew, without asking, the newcomer was a Bat.

"What's this, what this?" exclaimed the second Flittermouse. "Good gracious, Sister, why have you brought a stranger into the meadow on a night like this?"

"'Tis none of your business, Sister Bat," promptly squeaked Mrs. Flittermouse the first. "I have a perfect right to bring whoever I like, whenever and wherever I please. I'd thank you not to be so rude to my guest."

"Humph! Trying to teach me manners, are you? Well, you can't do it. I never had any, and it is too late to bother with them now. Move over a bit, sister! I want to look at your guest, as you call him. Where did you pick him up?"

The newcomer gave Peter's friend a scornful shove, and stretching wide her wings, bent forward to look at the boy. "Who are you?" asked she, blinking into Peter's face. "Why are you interrupting our party?"

Peter drew back from the cross stranger's menacing wings which she was waving all too close to his eyes. "I am sorry. I didn't know there was to be a party," said the boy, and I'm not interrupting it. I came here on the back of Mrs. Flittermouse—she rescued me from the deep, dark woods over yonder. But now I am in the open, I know my way home, and I will not trouble you by hanging around any longer!"

The boy turned to say goodbye to kindly Mrs. Flittermouse when the second Bat spoke again. "Isn't as though you were good to eat, as you are tough; I know that by looking at you"—remarked she, impolitely, and then this Mrs. Flittermouse said a strange thing. Snap!

Peter whirled about, stared, and could scarcely believe his own eyes. Mrs. Flittermouse Second had drawn her wings close to her side and from the four fingers the skin hung in loose folds between. What but a moment before by the light of the moon had seemed like a witch with wings now looked like a big closed umbrella.

B. & O. Company Erecting Water Softener Plants

Two Being Built In Seventh Ward-New Castle Junction Area

Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward; Sunday Church Services

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company is having a water softener plant erected just west of the New Castle Baltimore and Ohio station in the seventh ward.

When completed the building will be a face brick structure, similar in pattern to the station itself. In size the building will be 30 by 16 feet. It will take approximately two weeks to erect the building. Another water softener plant is under construction at New Castle Junction.

The water softener plant by the station will be for passenger service only. The water will be softened by chemical, for use in the engines. This will keep the water from foaming and help give more efficient service. This year, 97 per cent of the trains going into Chicago were on time. Five through Chicago trains pass through New Castle daily.

The B. and O. company is spending thousands of dollars at the present time installing these water softeners. Within a short time six of these have been installed between New Castle and Akron Junction.

New Castle Credit Exchange

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch
to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A friend living in a neighboring Westchester town reports that he was arrested for a minor traffic violation and was given a summons to appear in the local court on the following Wednesday. Coming home at four in the morning two days before the time for his appointment with the judge, he found a note left by his wife, which advised him to get in touch with police headquarters immediately.

So off our gentleman drove to the habitat of the local constabulary and gently inquired for what reason was he summoned.

"Where were you tonight?" asked the sergeant ominously.

"I was working," replied the hero of our tale. "I wasn't supposed to appear until Wednesday."

"Yeh?" the officer snorted. "Let's see your summons."

The minion of the law scowled at this latter document for some time and observed that the time set was indeed Wednesday.

"Alright," he admitted grudgingly. "But be sure and be here on Wednesday. I guess there was some mix-up in the dates."

My friend promised that he would not fail and slunk home to bed. Which is the proper way of leaving or entering a police station—slinking. I mean. It has been my own, as well as others' experience, that the sergeant is always right.

Some Local Comment Ideas and Suggestions As Given To News Men

By ALFRED SWIFT

RICHARD PHILLIPS
East Grant Street.

I have been thinking that New Castle is getting to be quite the convention center of late. What with the Sabbath School association, druggists, Red Cross, insurance men, etc., the city really is getting on the map.

There are two things which have recently been built in New Castle which have added to its material for this purpose and they are The Castleton and the Scottish Rite cathedral. Now, even the largest delegation need not fear to pick our city as their headquarters, for we can accommodate them.

LEROY McKAMEY

Flying over the ocean seems to be folly, and especially for women flyers. Woman's place is in the home, even if some of them have the most modern ideas.

The old fashioned woman, I believe, is the type that appeals to most men, anyway.

WALTER KIRKER
Y. M. C. A.

Yes, I believe that New Castle will again get some of the championship events of western Pennsylvania, but I do not know what they will be.

We have here facilities which are not often found in a city of our size, and the board at Pittsburgh knows it. In the near future, I hope, we can announce the events and the dates on which they will take place.

THE WORST POVERTY—

Is to live in the presence of beauty without being able to appreciate it.

Is to gaze on loveliness and be the victim of lust.

Is to see nothing in money but the power to get.

Is to be able to feel no thrill when the flag goes by.

Is to live by the goodness of God and never to recognize Him.

Crippled Hunter; Bags Much Game

LANCASTER, Nov. 12.—What is believed to be a record for a hunter who cannot walk without crutches, has been established by Robert Collins, of Mt. Vernon. Collins, recently dismissed from a hospital, after being treated for injuries received in a 40-foot fall, accompanied a party of friends into a field.

They placed Collins on a mound of hay, and while they roamed the countryside, Collins, from his point of vantage brought down two squirrels, a raccoon and a rabbit.

Prompt Payment Of Bills Becomes Rule Of Customers

"The dead beat has gone, the slow paying customer is going and the man and woman who pays their bills promptly is taking their place," declared Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange in an interview this morning.

"This is brought about by the intense co-operation of the retail merchants of New Castle. Through the Credit Exchange. This has practically eliminated the dead beat—or the man who knowingly and willfully buys beyond his means or who evades his just obligations.

"Through the Credit Exchange the same influence is being used to eliminate the slow paying customer and those who are listed on the merchants books as undesirable accounts.

"It seems to me that a merchant who sells on credit has the same right to expect his billings to be paid promptly as the merchants' employees have the right to expect their checks on pay day."

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Severe cold wave, extending far southward, was expected to center on November 10; period of rising temperatures 10 to 14; general increase in precipitation during first half of month; heaviest precipitation, relative to local normal amounts, expected to occur on north Pacific slope and in northeast sections during first half of month.

A storm wave of severe intensity will be expected to cross continent during week centering on November 14; this storm wave will move well down into southern states, probably drawing a companion storm, of lesser intensity, across southern California; week following 14 will be a period of stormy weather throughout northern hemisphere and I will expect to hear of dangerous storms, of a local character, occurring near 16, tho I will not attempt to localize them, as such forecasts border to close to the sensational and cannot be made with a sufficient degree of accuracy. Heaviest precipitation during 14 to 21 will be expected in western Europe, central and northern Atlantic coast sections of North America and northern Pacific slope of North America. Following this week of severe storms, the most extreme cold wave of month will be expected to cross North American continent centering on 23 with greatest extremes occurring in sections 2, 4, 7 and eastern part of 1 and 3, the eastern, northeastern and northwestern parts of continent. This period will be very much of a winterish nature in vicinity of Great Lakes.

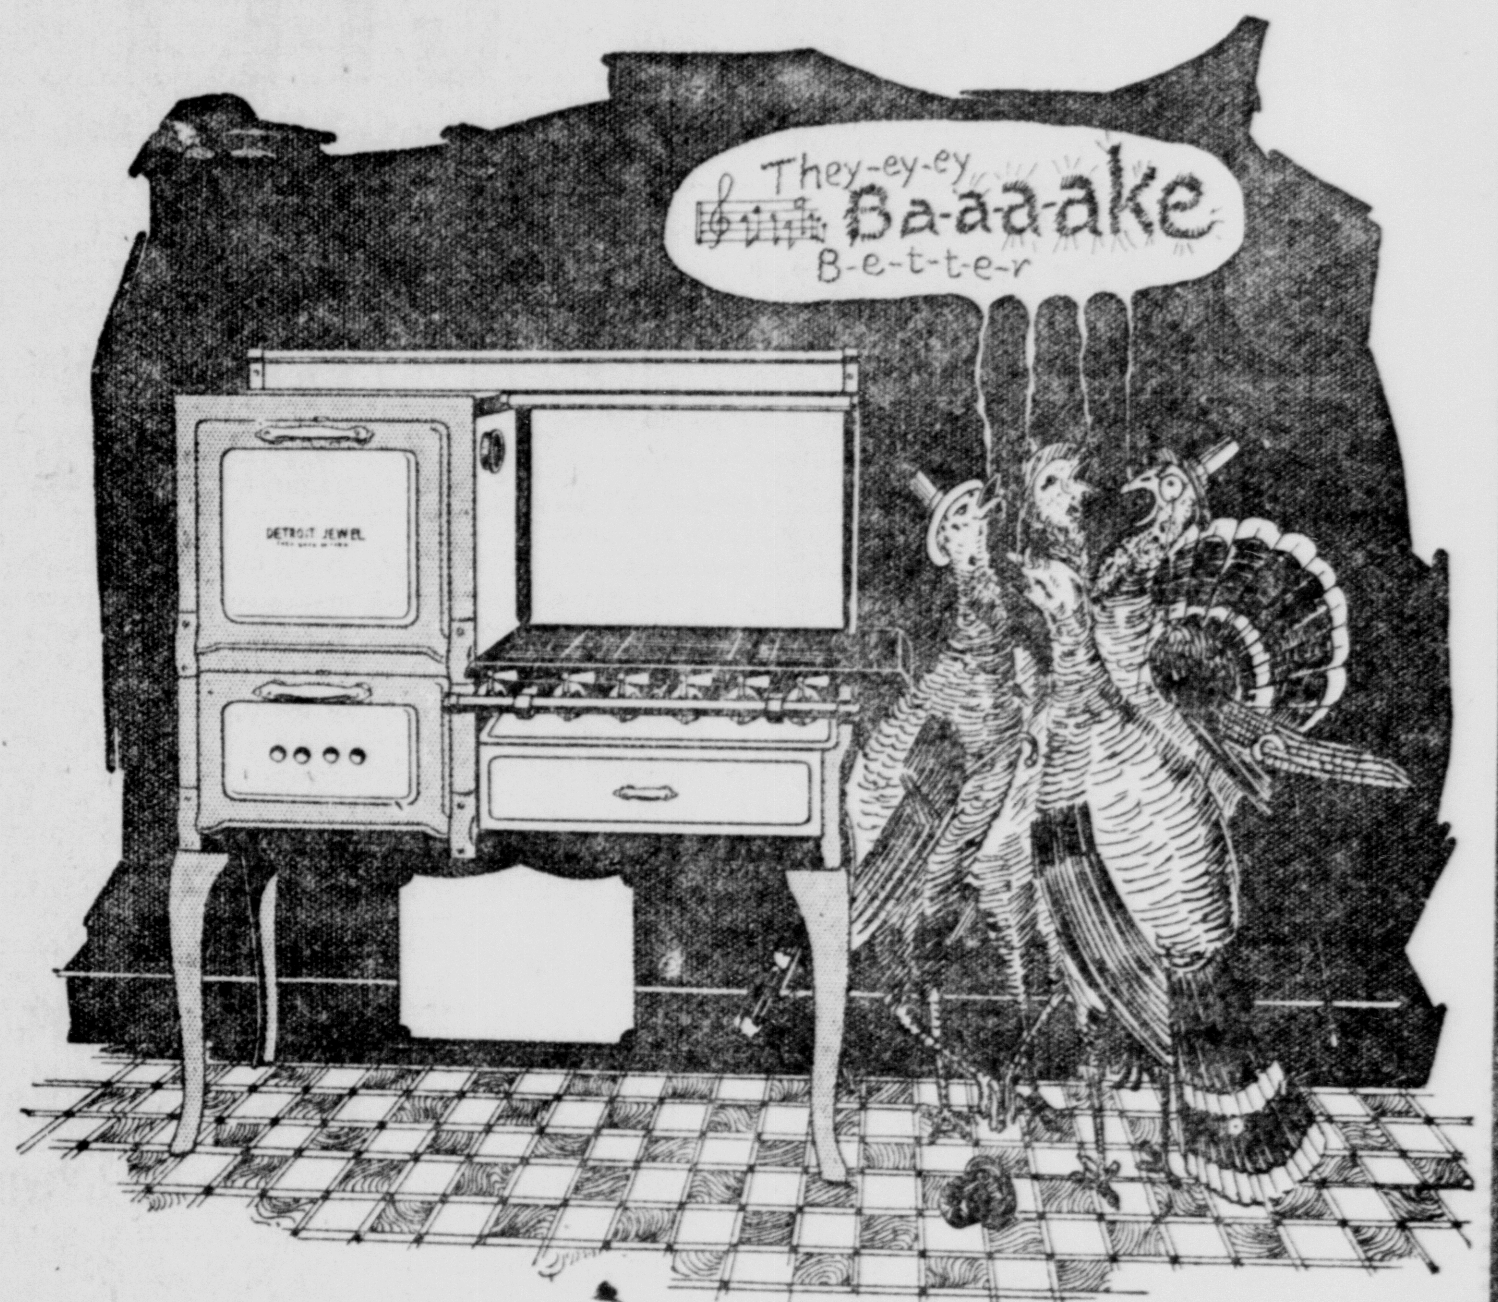

Winter Grains.

Foreign Crops and Markets, in issue of October 31, 1927, reporting Russian grain situation, makes the following comments on winter crops: "Winter wheat in the North Caucasus constituted 36% of total wheat area of the region in 1925, nearly 41% in 1926 and over 41% in 1927. "Economic Life" reports an increase of 8.5% in winter grain acreage for this section in 1928 harvest. The growth of the winter belt this year, which is being extended into districts where no winter crops were grown before, is being favored by three factors; unfavorable planting conditions last spring which resulted in a reduction of the area planted to summer crops, compared with the original estimates; dry summer, resulting in an earlier crop and harvest; and high yields of the winter crop of demonstrating their advantage compared with the spring crops, also their better power of resistance to drought compared with spring crops."

For the 1925-6-7-8 harvests I have advised large sections of North America to cater to winter grains in preference to spring sown crops. The above comments would lead one to believe that winter grains would make better yields than spring sown grains during every season, which I do not believe would prove to be true.

We are now in a period that is averaging more favorable to winter grains for the following reasons: Good average winter moisture; late average spring planting season; comparatively early arrival of summer temperatures; early arrival of cool and cold periods of fall. These conditions will not last always, nor will all years favor winter grains. Dry or wet periods, cold waves or hot periods, or other adverse conditions may occur at times that would be disastrous to winter grains and at the same time favor or at least not damage spring crops.

Ellwood High Defeats New Brighton 18-0

By TONY PASTA

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 12.—Coach Lee's Ellwood high warriors again came home with the bacon when they celebrated Armistice day by defeating the New Brighton aggregation on their own field by the score of 18-0. MacMurdo again starred for the Tubers and was ably assisted by Bill King and Fanno, who ripped off timely gains.

Although the valley eleven was unable to score against the Blue and White they offered stubborn opposition and forced the Tubers to fight for every inch of the ground that they gained. In the last quarter Baird gave the fans a thrill by accepting a pass which netted 65 yards, running 40 yards with the ball after he had accepted it. This was the nearest threat offered by the Crimson and Gold for on the next play all hopes of victory were shattered when MacMurdo intercepted a forward pass.

Dyson and Baird played a nice game for the valley eleven and deserve credit for the opposition they helped to give against the Tubers. Dyson's punting was one of the features of the game, one of them going into the air for 65 yards and then went over the line as it went over Lawrence's head. Kennedy and Fair also played a hard game, the latter intercepting a pass in the last part of the third quarter. According to reports there were four of New Brighton's regulars out of the contest on account of injuries. No substitutions were made by the New Brighton aggregation. New Brighton showed some strong power in the first part of the fray when they held the Blue and White on the one-yard line for three downs before MacMurdo finally took the ball over on the fourth.

Ellwood's first score came when they followed the kickoff up the field, making a 50-yard march through the line. King made the largest gain by ripping off 28 yards on one run which was followed by a 15-yard gain by MacMurdo. The first score came in the first few minutes of play. New Brighton fumbled on the first play following the second kickoff, giving the Tubers a break of which they made good use by carrying the ball up the field for a second goal, with King taking it over. No other scores

Asserts Harding Died As Martyr

Ohio Chief Justice Speaks At Marion Tomb On Visit By Republican Women

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 12.—An impressive tribute was paid to the memory of Warren G. Harding and his services as president of the United States in an address given here Friday by Carrington T. Marshall, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, in the presence of an audience which included hundreds of visitors from all sections of the state.

Justice Marshall's address, delivered at the temporary tomb of President Harding in Marion cemetery, shortly after the noon hour, was the outstanding feature of the pilgrimage made to Marion today by the Ohio Council of Republican Women. The visitors came here from Columbus, where they are holding a two-day meeting, to place a wreath on the Harding tomb.

Declaring that Harding became president at one of the most critical periods of our history, when there existed problems vastly greater than those faced by any other chief executive since Abraham Lincoln, the chief justice said that, as a result, Warren G. Harding met the death of a martyr, his life sacrificed upon the altar of service to his country.

It was an untimely death, due to the arduous and exacting demands of an office which no man of ordinary physique can meet, the jurist stated. "Warren G. Harding served at a time when great men were in demand and he measured up to every requirement," he added.

Basketball Managers To Meet On Tuesday

Meeting of the managers of the city industrial basketball league will be held in the office of Walter Kirker in the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening November 15 instead of Monday evening as was announced in yesterday's paper. Mr. Kirker has asked the men to meet at 8 o'clock.

The meeting will be for the purpose of organization of the league and plans for an even bigger and better season than ever.

Mr. Kirker wishes the following representatives of teams to be present as well as a representative of all other teams who wish to join the league: D. D. Potter, Pennsylvania railroad; Ray Nolte, B. and O. railroad; Alec Samuels of Rick-Overland; Jack Reeder, Penn State Auto Service and a representative from Liberty A. C. and the East Side Merchants.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Poppy selling girls were making an energetic campaign today to raise funds for the American Legion. They were to be found on many of the street corners of the city early this morning, and have been there during the day.

Traffic on the Wilmington road a short distance outside the city was considerably hampered late yesterday while an effort was made to extricate a huge truck that had skidded into the ditch. The effort had to be given up however, and the truck remained in the ditch overnight.

Despite the fact that we have had a spell or two of wintry blasts there are still to be seen some flowers in bloom on various local premises.

Pa News is skeptical about any of those old timers mentioned, playing any football at the stadium this afternoon.

Judge Pays Fine Saves Taxpayers

Barger dug down into his own pocket and paid the $1 fine. Hulquist called at the home of the judge to express protest and said that if fined he would expect the board of public welfare to pay it.

"No John, rather than have the money come out of the taxpayers I'll pay it myself" replied the judge. And he did.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Right Of Expatiation

THE GREAT NUMBERS OF EUROPEAN IMMIGRANTS THAT POURED INTO AMERICA IN THE 19TH CENTURY BROUGHT UP THE QUESTION OF THE STATUS OF A MAN WHO LEFT HIS NATIVE LAND TO BECOME A CITIZEN OR SUBJECT OF ANOTHER. FOR EXAMPLE, WAS A MAN BORN IN ENGLAND STILL A BRITISH SUBJECT AFTER HE HAD MADE THE UNITED STATES HIS PERMANENT HOME?

EARLY IN THE 19TH CENTURY THE BRITISH ASSUMED THE RIGHT TO SEIZE ENGLISH-BORN AMERICAN SEAMEN FOUND ABOARD AMERICAN SHIPS AND FORCE THEM TO SERVE IN THE BRITISH NAVY. THIS PRACTICE LED TO THE WAR OF 1812.

THE QUESTION CAME UP AGAIN IN THE CASE OF GERMAN-BORN AMERICANS WHO VISITED THE OLD COUNTRY. COULD THE GOVERNMENT OF GERMANY FORCE SUCH PERSONS TO SERVE IN THE ARMY OF THEIR FATHERLAND? THE UNITED STATES MAINTAINED THAT GERMANY OR ANY OTHER FOREIGN NATION HAD NO SUCH RIGHT.

IN 1869 WE CONCLUDED A TREATY WITH GERMANY IN WHICH THAT NATION ACKNOWLEDGED THE RIGHT OF GERMANS TO RENOUNCE ALLEGIANCE TO HER AND BECOME CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES. IN 1870 ENGLAND ALSO ADMITTED THE RIGHT OF EXPATRIATION.

ERIE GRIDDEERS HERE EAGER FOR GAME

Battle Starts At 2:30 O'clock

New Castle High Football Team Encounters Fast Erie East Team Today

"New Castle Day" Boosters Prepare Elaborate Program As Tribute

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The stage is set at Ben Franklin High stadium for the New Castle-Erie East high grid battle this afternoon. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock. It will be an enthusiastic crowd that awaits the appearance of the combatants.

"New Castle Day" or booster day which ever you prefer to call it will live long in the memories of those attending, if present plans are carried out. The huge stadium doors will swing open at 1:30 o'clock and from start to finish the few hours will be packed full of entertainment of some nature.

The committee in charge of the "New Castle Day" program has left nothing undone to make the occasion one of the most notable of recent years and it is understood that even bigger and better novelties are already planned for next year. A real live bunch this alumni committee and they generally do things in proper fashion.

Colors Prevail
The stadium as viewed today presented a most colorful appearance, gaudily bedecked in brilliant colors, with red and black, the school colors most conspicuous. The Erie colors of steel grey and crimson were also quite prominently displayed at vantage points.

The arrival of the big "football parade" at the stadium will be the signal for the ceremonies to start, and brethren there are some interesting features awaiting. The Senior and Junior High bands have been combined today for the purpose of providing a lot of music.

As for the game itself, both teams are anxiously waiting the lifting of the barrier rod. The Erie East team arrived in New Castle late Friday afternoon and quartered at the Leslie Hotel.

The New Castle High griddeers completed their training on Friday afternoon at Franklin field, and Coach Bridenbaugh was satisfied that the boys are in good condition for the game. Coach Johnny Anderson is confident that the Erie team will give the New Castle eleven plenty in the way of opposition. A lively combat is eagerly being awaited by thousands of fans here this afternoon.

The "New Castle Day" boosters will be seated in the concrete stands today and there will be a flock of them, no doubt. The boosters have secured three mighty fine cheerleaders, Chris Clark, Dave Johns and Harry Sanders, to lead them in the old yells and hoots. The boosters say that they will out cheer the New Castle High students.

The event will be enlivened somewhat by fireworks and bomb salutes from the Vitale Fireworks Company. Exactly at one o'clock, when the parade leaves the Diamond, the first bomb will be exploded, and that will be the signal for the activities to commence.

The only doubtful thing today was the weather, and early this morning it looked for all the world as if the rainmaker was doing his best to dampen the ardor of the occasion.

SORDS POINTS

Proving Texas Can Produce Great Teams

Way down in the southwest corner of the United States there is a football team that is cutting quite a figure in collegiate circles this year. The Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Tex., is the team. Captained by Gerald Mann, the Mustangs, as they are called, are leaving ruin behind them not only in the Southwest Conference, of which they are members, but out of it as well.

Mann is a peerless passer, a "second Friedman." If you must, and according to reports, one of the brainiest signal barkers in the land. Besides leading his team to a victory over Texas, conquerors of Vanderbilt, Mann was a big noise in the Methodistists' sensational 32 to 9 win over Missouri when the Missouri Valley Conference team invaded Dallas. And Missouri holds a victory over Northwestern by the convincing score of 34 to 19. To further emphasize the strength of the Texans, Missouri used their crack backs, Flannan and Clark, against the Mustangs and did not in the game with Northwestern. This proves that the Methodistists have one of the fastest teams in the country and in Mann, a marvelous quarterback. Their one regret is that Mann will not be with them next year when they will travel to West Point to try their luck against the Army.

Ben Franklin High Trims Chicora 20-0

Ben Franklin High football team closed their 1927 grid season in a blaze of glory, and also celebrated Armistice Day at Chicora on Friday afternoon, by topping the fast Chicora High team 20 to 0, in a good contest.

The Franklin team was superior to the Chicora eleven in every department of play and scored innumerable first downs against the Butler Countians. Fabian, the Franklin halfback was one of the stars of the battle, it being the work of this youth that kept the locals in the running, he tallied one of the touchdowns and made two extra points.

Chicora High showed far better style of play than they did in the game that was played on the Franklin Field several weeks ago. The Chicora boys made several nice gains through the line and completed several forward passes.

In the first quarter Mitchell kicked off to Chicora on the 20-yard line and on the first play Chicora fumbled and Franklin recovered. The locals made it first down on the 9-yard line in the first play, and Mitchell went over for the first touchdown on a line plunge through center, the attempt for extra point was blocked. The first quarter ended Franklin 6, Chicora 0.

The second quarter found Fabian hitting the line hard and skirting the ends for gains of 12 and 15 yards and finally he went over for the second touchdown. The first half ended Franklin 13, Chicora 0.

The second half was more hotly contested and only seven more points were added to the Franklin total, when Cunningham the Franklin left end received a forward pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown.

Westminster Football Team Ends Season In Day's Battle At Thiel

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 12.—Today Westminster's grid stalwarts invade the quarters of Thiel college at Greenville where they will clash with the Holleran coached eleven in the concluding game of Westminster's football season. Being the terminating game of the season for the Blue and White arrangements are being made by Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald to accommodate the large body of students, faculty and alumni who will watch the Beede coached team battle the Lutherans.

Coach "Dyke" Beede, intent on having his men in the prime of condition for the Thiel game sent the Blue and White squad through scrimmage on Tuesday and on Wednesday had his proteges engage in a light scrimmage. Thursday's practice session consisted of a signal drill and the Blue and White tapered off their preparations for the week end tilt with another light review of plays. Although Westminster surprised many of the grid sages when they battled the strong Waynesburg team to a scoreless tie last Saturday, they are by no means situated to consider today's encounter with Thiel lightly, in fact, it is thought by fans in the district that the United Presbyterians will again be the underdog.

A hard fought game with both agitations determined is predicted as bitter rivalry exists between these neighboring institutions.

New Wilmington High Defeats Bessemer 7-0

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 12.—In a thrilling hard-fought game played on the college field here yesterday afternoon the New Wilmington high school football team defeated the Bessemer eleven 7-0 to tie up the class B championship. Bessemer played good football, threatening the college town team's goal line in the latter part of the first half, but they were unable to cope with the inspired attack of the New Wilmington team in the last two periods.

The New Wilmington touchdown came about the middle of the third quarter when Hartwell, the diminutive New Wilmington end snatched Herriott's pass over the goal line, after Davis had carried the ball to the ten yard line from midfield.

Fumbles marred the play of Bessemer at times, but the team showed up well in its bucking and forward pass attack.

However with their third and fourth period rallies, the New Wilmington combine clearly outplayed the visitors. New Wilmington gained eight first downs to six for Bessemer.

Serjak, Snyder, Grist and Glassie starred for the Bessemer team while Neal, Hartwell, Davis, Choers and Herriott were the shining lights of the college town combine. The game ended as Bessemer completed a six yard pass about midfield.

Teams Battle on Even Terms.
Bessemer kicked off to Neal on New Wilmington 20 yard line. New Wilmington failed to gain and Herriott passed to Hartwell over the goal line for the first score of the game. Davis plunged through the line to give the extra point to New Wilmington.

New Wilmington Has Edge in Final Period.
The teams battled on even terms for the first part of the final period. New Wilmington unleashed an attack which gave them three first downs and advanced to the Bessemer ten yard line but the visitors held and punted out of danger. Cheers fumbled the punt and Bessemer recovered. Bessemer failed to gain through the line. Bessemer completed a six yard pass as the gun ended the game.

Union High Tramples On Sandy Lake 44-0

Union High school football team added another win to its string of victories Friday afternoon at the Scotland Lane field when it defeated the Sandy Lake High eleven by a score of 44-0 to the delight of the greater part of 1,000 spectators.

The entire Union backfield starred in the fray. Shiek, playing quarterback for the locals, registered one touchdown, while Horchler and Carr each made two trips over the Mercer countians' goal. Horchler plays left half and Carr right half for the victors. Keeler, stellar fullback for the blue and white aggregation, and whose heavy line crashing gained much territory for the locals yesterday, also crossed Sandy Lake's goal once, as did his fellow teammate Wochnier, center of the team.

Two touchdowns were made during the first period of the encounter, while only one was made in the latter part of the first half.

At the opening of the second half the Sandy Lake team came out on the field with new vigor or at least it appeared so soon after the half was under way. Sandy Lake kicked off to Rech of Union, who brought it back to his own 35-yard line, where he was downed. Shiek advanced the ball on the next play to the middle of the field. On the next play Sandy Lake held fast and allowed the Scotland Laners but one yard gain. A pass in the next play netted the Unionites eight more yards. In the next move Union advanced one yard around left end.

But the end of this steady advance on Sandy Lake's goal came when Union lost the ball on downs on Sandy Lake's 10-yard line. Here Sandy Lake punted to Union's 40-yard line and immediately it was returned to Union's 48. Another similar march down the field, however, ended in a touchdown.

At various times during the affair Lowry, Sandy Lake's flashy right half, became a menace. In three successive plays he gained approximately 20 yards for his red and blue warriors. He made the majority of his gains through tackle and around end.

Warner, left end for the losers, also deserves credit for his skill in receiving passes. He was responsible for several lengthy gains. The entire Mercer county team deserves praise. The Armistice Day clash was played on a dry field.

The line-up follows:
Union High 44 Sandy Lake 0

Schaas . . . L.T. . . . Morton

Rocco-Seifert Fight Monday At Youngstown

Joe Cumo, manager of Emmet Rocco, today stated that the Rocco-Sanday Seifert fight would be held Monday night at Rayen-Wood auditorium, Youngstown. It originally had been scheduled for last night.

Promoter Zill received word late yesterday that Seifert had a finger which would prevent him from fighting last night.

Seifert's manager, Jimmie Bronson, told Zill the blonde would be ready for Rocco Monday night.

Pitt-Nebraska Game Looms As Real Intersectional Contest Today

Notre Dame Favored To Defeat Army Team In Yankee Stadium Game

By REGIS CURRAN

International News Service Staff Correspondent
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—Appropos of things football, one of the most attractive matches in the land takes place in the Pitt Stadium here today where the husky Nebraska players of the University of Nebraska battle the slightly less husky football men of Pitt.

This battle ranks about even in intersectional importance with that other match involving Notre Dame and West Point, who tangle at the Yankee Stadium, New York City, in their annual colorful classic.

Approximately 55,000 fans were expected to see Pitt in its attempt to remain in the running for the mythical Eastern football championship. The giant Nebraskans, nearly every man of whom is six feet or over in height, present a formidable obstacle. The Cornhuskers have lost only one game this season and that to Missouri, 7-6, in a game classified as a decidedly undeserved victory for the boys from the "Showme" State.

Princeton Unbeaten
The East's only undefeated and untied team, Princeton, faces a huge task in Yale this afternoon, but much of the danger has been removed with ineffectuality of the Eli star, Bruce Caldwell.

In another of today's most important matches New York U. plays Penn State at State College, Pa. The New York combination is unbeaten and tied only by Colgate, and rated one of the strongest in the alleged effete East. Penn State, after a defeat in the early season by Bucknell, came back with a rush and dusted off Penn, Syracuse, Lafayette and George Washington so impressively that football sharpsharps wrote about the Lion in glowing phrases of praise and respect and ranking them as one of the nation's very strong teams.

If Pitt turns in a victory over Nebraska and Penn State knocks off New York, the way will have been paved for possibly the best game in the East this season when the two meet here on Thanksgiving day.

This section's other claimant of Eastern honors, Washington-Jefferson, also will be able to shout more loudly if Pitt wins, for the Presidents fight Pitt and are yet undefeated. They are expected to take over Bucknell this afternoon at Lewisburg, Pa. The encounter probably will be hard-fought, for the Central Pennsylvanians have been defeated only by the Army and tied by Geneva.

From Meadville, Pa., tonight, there is expected to emanate the story dealing with the details of a football game wherein Allegheny was crushed by Geneva. The Methodistists have their weakest team in years, although on

Several Important Grid Contests

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Football comes into its own today. Championship contests are scheduled for many Eastern gridirons with record crowds assured.

The Yale-Princeton annual meeting in the New Haven Bowl, the Army-
Notre Dame clash at the Yankee Stadium, the Navy-Michigan encounter at Ann Arbor, Penn State's struggle with New York University at State College, Penn's setto with Columbia at Franklin Field. Brown's conflag with Harvard at Cambridge, Colgate's annual battle with Syracuse in Archbald Stadium, Cornell's strife with Dartmouth at Hanover, Pittsburgh's engagement with Nebraska at Pittsburgh, and W. and J. game with Bucknell at Lewisburg, and George-town's mixup with Boston College at Boston, are the features of the most extraordinary card offered Eastern gridiron patrons this year.

The absence of Bruce Caldwell is not going to cripple the Bulldogs. Tad Jones has some really fine backs at New Haven. Garvey and Hammerley are substitutes for even such a pronounced star as the disbarred Eli player.

FAMOUS RED-HEADS

BY FEG MURRAY

Sorrel-tops have figured strongly in the history of the world from the time of Julius Caesar down to George Bernard Shaw, the pink-whiskered bard who once penned a most amusing play about the aforementioned Roman red-head's girl-friend, Cleopatra. So, too, have flaming-thatched athletes left crimson trails across the pages of athletic history, and it is about some of these "Scarlet Stars in Sports" that I write—using red ink, of course.

Red is the badge of courage and red-headed athletes seem to have more fighting spirit, more aggressiveness and more of the "will to win" than their blond or brunette brethren.

In boxing the most famous examples of sorrel-tops are Bob Fitzsimmons, known as "Ruby Robert";
Frank Moran, who once fought a twenty-round bout with Jack Johnson, if memory doesn't fail; and Bobby Parry.

Baseball boasts of many flaming-thatched wonders. "Red" Faber, famous old spit-ball pitcher of the Chicago White Sox; Larry Benton, who did such noble work for the

Giants last summer; Higley Jennings, "Red" Ames, "Red" Murray,
Fred Lucas, "Red" Wingo, "Red"
Smith, "Red" Ormsby, the umpire, and you might even say that those two great right-handers, Grover Alexander and Dazzy Vance, are red-headed.

Not forgetting "Red" Green in hockey, "Red" Murray in football, and Maurice "Red" McLoughlin, that fiery comet of the courts, who won the United States singles tennis championship in 1912 and 13.

Now for football; "Red" Grange
—you've probably heard of him—
also, "Brick" Muller, that wonderful end, who can throw a football as you can throw a baseball, and who has excelled in track and field athletics. And remember "Red" Barron, that much-feared ball-carrier
from Georgia Tech, and "Red" Roberts, the giant end from Centre College in 1921 and '22? Last year "Red" Barnes was captain of the Alabama team—in fact, the Crimson Tide boasted of three sorrel-topped backfield stars—and the Notre Dame team
was led by two red-headed captains,
"Red" Hearden and "Red" Edwards.

reference he takes the place of Chester L. Smith.

Important business was also transacted at the conference meeting in that a committee was appointed to draw up a new constitution for the organization. This committee is composed of three members: A. A. Mc-Donald of Westminster, A. C. Edge-comb of Geneva, and F. R. Nuss of Bethany.

The new constitution will be presented to be acted upon by the Tri-State body at the December meeting in Pittsburgh.

Slattery is a newcomer to the big show as far as the average fan is concerned although he has been scout for the Braves for several years and has coached the Boston College nines every spring.

Shotton was mentioned as a possible manager at the time he stepped out of the big show, after playing with the Cards, Browns and Washington, but didn't break in—outside of a short spasm in St. Louis under Rickey.

Bill McKechnie was a big league
pilot as recently as two years ago—
and resigned his job with the Pirates
when the team became demoralized
over the alleged "dual control" by Bill and Fred Clarke.

McKechnie joined the Cardinals as coach last spring and labored hard all season to help O'Farrell, serving him novitiate as manager, produce a "repeater" at St. Louis.

The Cleveland Indians, Chicago
White Sox and perhaps one other club in the majors still are weighing the matter of a manager.

The promotion of Shotton from a minor league berth prompts the belief that one of the clubs still seeking a pilot, will follow suit and give Casey Stengel, former Giant outfielder, a chance. Stengel lifted the Toledo Mud Hens to a pennant last season.

What ever else happens in the way of managerial selections the fans will see at least two new newcomers in Slattery and Shotton. Bring on others.

Charles Comiskey, once called "The Old Roman," with some reverence, is said to have refused to vote for the resolution thanking Ban B. Johnson for his efforts in behalf of baseball in general and the American League in particular. This when Johnson was stepping out in favor of E. S. Barnard.

Comiskey's refusal came from a personal enmity which sprung up some 10 years ago.

In view of what baseball has done for the Comiskey family and his friends, and what Johnson was to the sport, one can't find much excuse for Comiskey's act.

COUPLE FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

CADIZ, O., Nov. 12.—Doyle D. Donaldson, 32, and his wife, Mrs. Wade Donaldson, 25, were found shot to death in their home here late Friday.

Authorities believe Donaldson killed his wife and then ended his life. She was shot through the heart and the theory was borne out by a note found in Donaldson's pocket. The note, addressed to his father, who lives at Jewett, near here, said:

"Forgive me for what I am doing."

It is the only way out. My wife has been untrue to me."

Authorities have been unable to determine if the note is in Donaldson's handwriting. They are also baffled by certain circumstances surrounding the tragedy.

A small revolver was found beside Donaldson's body. It contained one empty shell. In the bedrooms were found six empty shells but only three bullets could be found. One was embedded in the side of the bed.

Although there was blood in the bedroom, the bodies of both Donaldson and his wife were found at the foot of a stairway leading to the second floor.

Donaldson was Cadiz representative of the West Virginia Natural Gas Co.

May Explode New Fireworks In Oil Trial

Assistant U. S. Attorney Bur-
kinshaw Says Startling Evidence Being
Probed

CLOSELY GUARD NEW INFORMATION

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—A final flame of fireworks was promised today in the government's grand jury investigation of the alleged efforts of Harry P. Sinclair, oil magnate, to tamper with the jury that was sitting in his trial for conspiracy with former Secretary of Interior Albert
B. Fall to grab the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Neil Burkinshaw, in charge of the investigation, was guarding the nature of the unexpected "big new lead" zealously.
"If I get anything out in advance,"
he said, "I wouldn't get the information I'm going after."

He indicated, however, there might be further developments of a really sensational character.
Sinclair, H. Mason Day and Sheldon Clark—the latter two Sinclair officials and alleged "contact men"
between the oil king and the 15
Burns detectives who were hired to shadow the jury—already have been sited in a formal complaint for conspiracy to illegally influence a petit jury. Day is out on $25,000 bond.
Clark has been released on $10,000;
no effort has been made to arrest
Sinclair.

If science must interest itself in warfare let it think up an improved nsect powder.

Delegations Hear Blind Evangelist

The meetings are of more than local interest that are now being held by the Rev. Thomas Houston, the blind evangelist, in the Moravia Presbyterian church. Last Wednesday night
Rev. Elliot of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church with fifty-five of his church members attended the service and contributed to its interest by singing and in other ways taking part.

That night following so closely upon election day the evangelist spoke of the religious polls open to all, regardless of age, to vote and make their calling and election sure.
On Thursday night the Rev. D. C.
Schnebley, and others from New Castle were in attendance. Many came forward and gave their hands to the evangelist in token of their reconsecration to live a better life.

On Sunday will be the closing services of this series. In the morning
Rev. Houston will speak on "Who's Who," and in the evening he will tell his life's story how he lost his sight
at eighteen years of age which subsequently led to his becoming a Christian and an ordained Presbyterian minister. He begins another series of meetings at Atlantic, Pa., next Tuesday night.

geance for the recent demonstrations against the Communist party, the

of participating in public and secret meetings at which Leon Trotsky and
M. Zinoviev, at whom the wrath of the party has been directed, were said to have made addresses against the present controlling government.

ABE MARTIN On Crime An' Justice

LAFE BUD BEATEN AN' STRIPPED WHILE CONVERSIN' WITH CONSTABLE

Mrs. Tipton Bud's gran'father, of Iron Trail, Montanner, who is visitin'
her, wuz knocked down an' robbed before he could explain that a little after seven last evenin' "I've lived in Montanner nearly all my life, but I had t' come here in th' middle west
t' git robbed of a silver huntin' case watch that I've carried fer forty years," said he t' day, as th' doctor adjusted a round steak t' his left eye.
I guess ever'buddy in town has been shot an' kicked an' robbed, 'cept Elmer Wilkins, an' he's been bedfaced fer
two years. There's no leaver a familiar face at th' bank. They're all beat up an' distorted. Joe Sloan, who drives a milk wagon, says his left side is black an' blue from havin' guns poked against it. There's a guessin' contest goin' on at th' Emporium store. Ever' customer spendin' ten cents or more gits t' guess on how many shot th' doctor takes out o' Finley Newcombs' back. He wuz shot while defendin' his Ford yesterday.
Tell Binkley has neuritis in both arms,
but before he could explain that he couldn't raise his hands, a neat ap-pearin' stranger hit him twice in th' nose an' stole his fountain pen, a valuable pair o' sea bean cuff-buttens,
an' a Mexican dollar he's carried ever since his last divorce, an' he valued it very highly. Mrs. Wesley Plum wuz settin' in her car while her husband wuz returnin' some palamas she'd bought him, an' when he come back he found th' car had been stripped o' all four tires. "I thought I felt th' car sort o' sinkin', but I supposed th' tires wuz gittin' flat," explained his wife. Al Moon, who wuz surprised while makin' up his pay roll
Saturday, is still in a critical condition, as th' corn cob he wuz gagged with got wet an' swelled. Th' doctor expects t' git it out t' day unless complications set in. He's bored a hole thro' it an' they keep it open with pipe cleaners. Lester Kite is still in th' McKee's Creek Trust Company's vault an' ther' feedin' him through th' keyhole till an expert kin come from Providence, Rhode Island Night
Watchman Herbert Beasley, o' th' Monarch Five & Ten, thought he heard provokers night before last, an'
sure enough he got his legs full o'
buckshot an' may not be able t' skate
th' comin' winter. Lafe Bud wuz knocked down an' relieved of his overcoat an' shoes while he wuz talkin'
t' Constable Newt Plum in front of a well-lighted soft drink parlor last night. Speakin' o' crime t' day, Jake Bentley said, "Th' more severe our penalties git th' less sure justice gits.
Th' criminal has no longer anything
t' fear 'cept gittin' shot while he's runnin' away, an' that's purty remot."

Madame Gabrielle Nerson-Coblenz, a professor at the Sarbonne University, has declared that it is a waste of time and a bad influence to let babies learn baby talk which they must later unlearn. The baby talk proponents, headed by Jules Veran, say that until the tongues, lips and vocal cords of babies develop and their teeth grow that small children must be allowed to talk their own language. Anyway, they argue, why change baby talk even if it were possible?

It has no message of hope and cheer for the Tired Business Man.
Isn't trying to uplift anything at so much per lift, has no solution for the problems of the day, and has no slogans.

Speeches are taboo. The only speech allowed is "let me take that check" and this won't be made often.
The members can eat as much as they please of what they please providing they have the money to pay for it, and the only eligibility requirement is that a chap can tell a story occasionally, and doesn't eat peas with his knife. It will meet every Friday.

Some of the outstanding features of the Friday Feeder follows:
It has no officers.
Its membership is not limited.
It is non-political, non-sectarian,
non-everything except for eating purposes.

A member can bring as many guests as he pleases, providing he pays for their meals or lets them pay their own.

Members are not permitted to bring saxophones with them.
There are no rules. Any member who doesn't like the Friday Feeder can stay away.

There is no initiation fee, no dues,
no special assessments, no by-laws,
no constitution, and no secretary to remind you that you owe $14.75 to the treasury.

For the opening meal there was about 12 men present and every one of them said he would have another next Friday.

What's happened to the laundries?
I have six collars which are slightly soiled and need cleaned, but the laundry agencies seem to be disappearing. Am willing to take bids on the cleaning of these six collars,
size 14½, white linen, wing design,
and want them cleaned, not sharpened.

Saw an automobile at the curb of a second hand agency this morning.
A regular four wheeled affair and looked good for a lot of miles yet. A sign on it read, "take me home for $27.50." What could be fairer than that?

And several squares below the point,
at the corner of Mill and Lutton last night a car tried to tie itself into a bow knot around a telephone pole and as nearly as could be judged the effort was about 85 per cent efficient.

This sport called dancing is funny.
A young lady will refuse to walk ten squares on a cement sidewalk, but hire a bunch of saxophone players,
put them in a smooth floored hall,
call it a dance and she will dance
ten miles and call it a big time.

Baby Has Perfect Right To Talk In "Da Da's"

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Baby is quite justified in using the words "da da"
and "goo goo" most French experts agree, and there is no need to teach him—or her—academic pronunciation.

Bruce Resigns From U. S. Service

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—David K.
E. Bruce, who married Miss Ailsa Mellon, America's richest heiress, a little more than a year ago, has resigned from the U. S. consul service.
The resignation was said to be due to Mrs. Bruce's health and her antipathy to living abroad.

Bruce is the son of Senator William Cabell Bruce of Maryland. The marriage of young Bruce and the daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury was one of the social events of the capital. They are at present living in Baltimore.

It may be that a woman has a

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

PERPETUAL MOTION
"Perpetual motion inventors" have been laughed at through the ages.
And yet, over in Switzerland, at Zurich, there is a clock that has never been wound. It ticks merrily on. It is run by a mechanism set in motion every time the temperature changes two degrees. And the temperature changes often. What's the difference between that and perpetual motion?

NO TIDINGS
A New Jersey doctor, pronounced dead from heart disease, comes back to life for a few hours. To surrounding physicians he said: "Why did you bring me back? I was in heaven."

But he brought no tidings of heaven, and now he is really dead.
Despite all the efforts of the spiritualists, the psychics, the experimenters, there is no definite, convincing, satisfying word from the realm of the next life. That is not important.
Those who study men and women
the most and know them best are sure they are not meant to flicker out like the end of a candle. Vision and imagination, qualities of men,
are far too great for this life alone.
The capacity for development is evident. There must be a place, in all the years to come, for a human being to grow into his own.

WE'LL KNOW THEM
Edison, great scientist, says he is convinced there is a Supreme Intelligence pervading the universe. And he adds: "When we die, we'll know.
Why argue about it?" That's a good idea.

Be sure that a Supreme Intelligence will deal with human beings justly. And be sure you won't get any more than justice. Nobody deserves any more.

Make Arrangements For School Music Contests

The article which appeared in the News on November 9 relative to the school music contest has aroused so much interest locally that more specific details are given here.

The general committee which met at the Lafayette hotel in Meadville in October decided to confine the contest to Northwestern Pennsylvania
so that it would not be too cumbers-ome to handle, but it was also determined to admit any school in all of Western Pennsylvania which might desire to enter.

Any seventh and eighth grade junior high school or senior high school of the section concerned,
which includes all of Erie, Crawford, Lawrence, Butler, Venango and Mercer counties, may enter. The competition is to be both vocal and instrumental work. There are three different classifications: Class A, high schools having an enrollment of over four hundred; Class B, high schools having an enrollment under four hundred; Class C, grade schools and junior high schools. In both vocal and instrumental work, all schools will compete with the other schools which fall in the same classification.

The contest will be held in Grove
City on May 4, 1928. Through A. W.
Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and LaVerne Irvine of the public schools an effort was made to bring the contest to New Castle.
However when the committee met last week at Grove City W. E. Dimorier, assistant principal of Academy High of Erie, president of the Music association gave his vote and influence to Grove City on the grounds that New Castle and the other larger cities of the district would inevitably have to be chosen as the place for holding the contest in another year or two, when it becomes too large for the smaller cities of the district to take care of.
